Course Description

This course covers experimental methods for stress, strain, deformation, and non-destructive evaluation in solid mechanics. The course begins with the theory of stress, strain, deformation, and stress-strain relations to cover the quantities that will be measured. Experimental techniques to measure quantities at a point, averaged over a line, and full-field are covered in detail. Detailed strain gage theory and application are covered. Optical methods are emphasized including brittle coatings, photoelasticity, photoelastic coatings, geometric moiré, shadow moiré, moiré interferometry, 2D and 3D digital image correlation, as well as other methods.

Course Pre-Requisites / Co-Requisites

EGM 3520, Mechanics of Materials

Course Objectives

To teach the most used and historically significant methods of solid mechanics experimental stress analysis

Materials and Supply Fees

Fees will be used to buy supplies for the experiment presented in class.

Required Textbooks and Software

Recommended Materials

“Handbook of Experimental Solid Mechanics” William Sharpe Ed., Springer Science + Business Media, LLC, New York, NY, 2008.

“Experimental Solid Mechanics” Arun Shukla and James Dally, College House Enterprises, LLC, Knoxville, Tennessee, 2010.

Topics covered

- Review of Mechanics of Materials
- Stress and Strain
- Mechanical Measurement of Strain
- Electrical Resistance Strain Gages
- Optics
- Photo Elasticity and Photoelastic Coatings
- Strain Sensitive Coatings and Brittle Coatings
- Moiré Methods and Interferometry
- Digital Image Correlation
- Wave Propagation
- High Strain Rate Mechanics
- Term Paper Presentations (10 min each)

Term Paper

A term paper on an experimental stress analysis technique not otherwise covered in class will be due on November 1. The length should be between 6 to 8 pages. In the paper, describe the theory, applications, advantages and disadvantages of the technique. Provide appropriate figures and list at least 6 references. Possible topics include, but are not limited to: x-ray techniques, caustics analysis in fracture, grid methods, electronic speckle pattern interferometry, thermography, shearography, hole drilling method, fiber optic strain gages, eddy current flaw detection, ultrasonic methods, neutron diffraction methods. Pick a topic by October 2. You may choose a topic not listed here with my approval.

Attendance Policy, Class Expectations, and Make-Up Policy

No requirements will be made in terms of attendance. The class will, for the most part, be live during the class periods. Notes from the lectures will be provided on the Canvas Page.

Evaluation of Grades

Assignment	Total Points	Percentage of Final Grade
Homework Sets (almost weekly)	30 each	20%
Midterm Exam 1	100	20%
Midterm Exam 2	100	20%
Final Exam	100	25%
Term paper and presentation	100	15%
Total		100%

Grading Policy

The following is given as an example only.

Percent	Grade	Grade Points
92.0 - 100.0	A	4.00
90.0 - 91.9	A-	3.67
87.0 - 89.9	B+	3.33
82.0 - 86.9	B	3.00
80.0 - 81.9	B-	2.67
77.0 - 79.9	C+	2.33
72.0 - 76.9	C	2.00
70.0 - 71.9	C-	1.67
67.0 - 69.9	D+	1.33
62.0 - 66.9	D	1.00
60.0 - 61.9	D-	0.67
0 - 59.9	E	0.00

Students Requiring Accommodations

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the disability Resource Center by visiting <https://disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started/>. It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

Course Evaluation

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Guidance on how to give feedback in a professional and respectful manner is available at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/students/>. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via <https://ufl.bluera.com/ufl/>. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students at <https://gatorevals.aa.ufl.edu/public-results/>.

In-Class Recording

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.

University Honesty Policy

UF students are bound by The Honor Pledge which states, “We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honor and integrity by abiding by the Honor Code. On all work submitted for credit by students at the University of Florida, the following pledge is either required or implied: “On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment.” The Honor Code (<https://sccr.dso.ufl.edu/process/student-conduct-code/>) specifies a number of behaviors that are in violation of this code and the possible sanctions. Furthermore, you are obligated to report any condition that facilitates academic misconduct to appropriate personnel. If you have any questions or concerns, please consult with the instructor or TAs in this class.

Commitment to a Safe and Inclusive Learning Environment

The Herbert Wertheim College of Engineering values varied perspectives and lived experiences within our community and is committed to supporting the University’s core values, including the elimination of discrimination. It is expected that every person in this class will treat one another with dignity and respect regardless of race, creed, color, religion, age, disability, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, marital status, national origin, political opinions or affiliations, genetic information, and veteran status.

If you feel like your performance in class is being impacted by discrimination or harassment of any kind, please contact your instructor or any of the following:

- Your academic advisor or Graduate Program Coordinator
- HWCOE Human Resources, 352-392-0904, student-support-hr@eng.ufl.edu
- Curtis Taylor, Associate Dean of Student Affairs, 352-392-2177, taylor@eng.ufl.edu

- Toshikazu Nishida, Associate Dean of Academic Affairs, 352-392-0943, nishida@eng.ufl.edu

Software Use

All faculty, staff, and students of the University are required and expected to obey the laws and legal agreements governing software use. Failure to do so can lead to monetary damages and/or criminal penalties for the individual violator. Because such violations are also against University policies and rules, disciplinary action will be taken as appropriate. We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to uphold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.

Student Privacy

There are federal laws protecting your privacy with regards to grades earned in courses and on individual assignments. For more information, please see: <https://registrar.ufl.edu/ferpa.html>

Campus Resources:

Health and Wellness

U Matter, We Care:

Your well-being is important to the University of Florida. The U Matter, We Care initiative is committed to creating a culture of care on our campus by encouraging members of our community to look out for one another and to reach out for help if a member of our community is in need. If you or a friend is in distress, please contact umatter@ufl.edu so that the U Matter, We Care Team can reach out to the student in distress. A nighttime and weekend crisis counselor is available by phone at 352-392-1575. The U Matter, We Care Team can help connect students to the many other helping resources available including, but not limited to, Victim Advocates, Housing staff, and the Counseling and Wellness Center. Please remember that asking for help is a sign of strength. In case of emergency, call 9-1-1.

Counseling and Wellness Center: <https://counseling.ufl.edu>, and 392-1575; and the University Police Department: 392-1111 or 9-1-1 for emergencies.

Sexual Discrimination, Harassment, Assault, or Violence

If you or a friend has been subjected to sexual discrimination, sexual harassment, sexual assault, or violence contact the Office of Title IX Compliance, located at Yon Hall Room 427, 1908 Stadium Road, (352) 273-1094, title-ix@ufl.edu
